Critical Schema markup

- Finding: No schema.org markup was found, so AI systems have no structured description of this business to work from.

- Source: <https://www.hubspot.com/>

- Note: Add a LocalBusiness JSON-LD block to the homepage. Recommended snippet:

"@context": "https://schema.org",
"@type": "LocalBusiness",
"name": "YOUR BUSINESS NAME",
"description": "What you do and who it is for",

"url": "https://your-site.example",
"telephone": "+1-555-555-5555"

Pass Direct-answer clarity

- Finding: The homepage states clearly, in one sentence, what this business does and who it is for.

- Source: homepage

- Quote: HubSpot Agentic Customer Platform Where go-to-market teams go to grow scale close retain grow Unite marketing, sales, and customer service on one agentic customer platform that delivers results fast.

Pass FAQ content

- Finding: The site contains question-style headings that AI systems can use to answer common questions directly.

- Source: <https://www.hubspot.com/products/crm/starter>

Add structured data about your business

impact: medium

effort: medium

- Why it matters here: No schema.org markup was found, so AI systems have no structured description of this business to work from.

- Explanation: Structured data tells AI assistants who you are, what you do, and where you are, in a format they can read reliably. Paste the JSON-LD block below into your homepage HTML and replace the placeholder name, description, URL, and phone with your real details.

<script type="application/ld+json">
"@context": "https://schema.org",
"@type": "LocalBusiness",

"name": "YOUR BUSINESS NAME",
"description": "What you do and who it is for",
"url": "https://your-site.example",
"telephone": "+1-555-555-5555"
</script>
